FEBRUARY 2026

Welcome to AEPA's February Update!

As we move into February, the year begins to take shape with renewed focus and meaningful progress. With plans set in motion, this is a timely moment to reflect on how we translate purpose into practice by strengthening our skills, deepening our understanding, and staying responsive to the evolving needs of the families and businesses we serve.

The estate planning profession continues to face increasing complexity, making continuous learning and professional dialogue more important than ever. At AEPA, we remain dedicated to supporting our members through relevant education, thoughtful engagement, and a strong professional community. Through CEPA and our ongoing initiatives, we strive to equip practitioners with the competence and confidence to navigate change with clarity and integrity.

As we journey through the year together, we encourage members to stay connected, participate actively, and contribute to the collective growth of our profession. Your commitment and involvement continue to shape AEPA into a trusted and purposeful community.

Stay informed. Stay connected. Stay ahead—with AEPA.
